About the speaker

Since becoming a legislator in 1979, Lt. Gov. Roger B. Wilson has proven himself to be a friend of education and the elderly. As a Missouri state senator, he was co-sponsor of the "Excellence in Education Act of 1985" that enacted major reforms in the state's elementary and secondary education system. He later sponsored the first law in Missouri history to make abuse of the elderly a crime.

Mr. Wilson's interest in education may be traced to his own experiences as a school administrator when he was an assistant principle at Russell Boulevard Elementary School, Columbia. He was Boone County Collector prior to his election to the state senate in a special election in the 19th Senatorial District in 1979. His legislative skills and commitment to public service were quickly recognized in the senate where he served six years as chairman of the powerful Senate Appropriations Committee, which is responsible for the state's operating budget each year.

A 1990 graduate of Harvard University's John F. Kennedy School of Government Program for Senior Executives in State and Local Government, Mr. Wilson earned his bachelor's degree from Central Methodist College, Fayette and his master's of education from the University of Missouri-Columbia. He won reelection to the senate post in 1980, 1984 and 1988. He was elected the state's lieutenant governor in 1992, the same year voters approved the statutory change Mr. Wilson sponsored giving significant duties to the lieutenant governor's office.

His public service has allowed him to serve on numerous boards and commissions including Missouri Parents as Teachers, Advocacy and Assistance for Elderly, Missouri Tourism Commission and the Missouri Housing Development Commission, among others. He also has been active in community service. He was recipient of the 1991 Public Official of the Year Award from the Missouri Association of Homes for the Aging and was recognized with an MU Alumni Award the same year. Other awards include the Missouri National Education Association (MNEA) Horace Mann Award and the Missouri State Teachers Association (MSTA) Outstanding Legislator of the Year Award. He and his wife, Patricia O'Brien Wilson, have two children.

Academic Attire

As early as the twelfth century the first modern universities, at Bologna and Paris, were centers of European learning. The usual garb of the time, for both churchmen and laymen, was a long gown which was necessary for warmth in the unheated buildings of the day. Scholars, generally members of church orders, wore such robes and also hoods to protect their shaven heads. Later, skull caps were worn on the head, and the hood became a cape which could be pulled over the head in unpleasant weather. The hood was also sometimes used to collect alms from the more affluent members of the community. As additional universities were founded, distinctive forms of the gown and hood were adopted by their faculties. Variations indicated various ranks within the institutions. Strict rules were published and in some cases punishment cited for tailors who departed from the authorized design.

The academic hat was a later development, adapted from the headdress of the ordinary people. Academically, it was originally worn as a symbol of the master's degree, and existed in various forms: some were round, some square and some had a tuft in the center. The flat, square "mortar board" of today originated at Oxford University in England.

Academic costume came to America in 1754 with the founding of King's College, now Columbia University. Styles became quite varied as they were in Europe, but in 1895 a group of American college and university representatives met to establish a uniform system of academic apparel for this country. This led to the establishment in 1902 of an "Intercollegiate Code of Academic Costume." The American Council of Education formed a committee in 1932 to review the 1895 code, which was again reviewed and revised in both 1960 and 1965.

There are today three basic types of gowns and hoods. The bachelor's gown has pointed sleeves and is designed to be worn closed. Recipients of the associate degrees wear gray gowns designed like the bachelor's gown. The master's gown is designed with an oblong sleeve, open at the wrist and with an arc cut away at the front of the sleeve. It may be worn either open or closed. The doctoral gown is of a full design with voluminous sleeves, and it also may be worn open or closed. Unlike the other two, the doctoral gown is faced down the front with velvet and with three velvet bars on the sleeves. These may be black or a color related to the subject of the degree. Thus, arts, letters and humanities may be white, business degrees may be drab or sapphire blue, education uses light blue, fine arts is brown, music is pink and science is golden yellow, to name a few.

The caps are always black, with a black tassel for baccalaureate degrees and a tassel of the color indicated above for master's. Doctoral caps usually have a tassel of metallic gold color.

The hoods worn by master's degree recipients are lined with the official colors of the institution awarding the degree. The binding and edging of the hood is silk or velvet in the color pertaining to the subject area. Doctoral hoods are longer and designed somewhat fuller, but the colors again are those of the institution granting the degree for the lining, and of the subject for the wide edging. There exists a small bachelor's hood, but generally it is not used in this country.
